DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-24 are pending in this action. Claims 1-24 are presented for examination. This office action is in response to the Amendment dated 5/28/02.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lang et al. (US 6314420B1).

With respect to claims 1, 9, and 17, Lang discloses an on-line ranking system for receiving rating data compiled from an on-line source based on interactive criteria that include feedback from users about businesses of interest to a particular user, (col. 5, lines 51-col. 6, lines 4, col. 24, lines 63-col. 25, lines 5, and col. 7, lines 47-62).

Lang does not clearly disclose, "wherein the rating data correlates higher quality matches to higher business satisfaction rating"; however, Lang shows the operation of conventional search engines at portal web sites, user queries are searched on demand to find relevant informons across the web. Content-based filtering is typically used in measuring the relevancy of informons, and the search results are resented in the form of a list informons ranked by relevancy, (col. 23, lines 23-38 and col. 16, lines 48-col. 17, lines 10). Therefore, it would been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the rating data correlates higher quality matches to higher business satisfaction rating in Lang so it satisfies the user's information need.

Lang further discloses wherein the on-line ranking system indexes the rating data, (col. 24, lines 63-col. 25, lines 5 and col. 22, lines 36-64); an on-line ranking repository for storing the rating data indexed by the on-line ranking system, (col. 1, lines 65-col. 2, lines 3 and col. 22, lines 36-64); and a result sorter fro sorting query results generating by the search engine, based on the rating data from the on-line ranking repository, and for generating ranked matches, (col. 24, lines 49-col. 25, lines 5 and col. 23, lines 33-38).

As to claims 2, 10, and 18, further including a search results transformer that converts the ranked matches to a user browsable form, (col. 23, lines 39-65).

As to claims 3, 11, and 19, further including an indexing engine that indexes web documents to generate indexed data, (col. 12, lines 21-38 and col. 24, lines 49-col. 25, lines 5).

As to claims 4, 12, and 20, further including a metadata repository for storing web documents that have been downloaded on-line, (col. 1, lines 1-34).

As to claims 5, 13, and 21, further including a query transformer which, when prompted by a query, applies a query request to the indexed data and generates the query results, (col. 23, lines 54-col. 25, lines 5).

As to claims 6, 14, and 22, wherein the on-line source includes an on-line feedback with annotations, (col. 23, lines 54-col. 25, lines 5).

As to claims 7, 15, and 23, wherein the on-line source includes any one or more of a questionnaire, a survey, or a web based rating service, (col. 7, lines 47-63).

As to claims 8, 16, and 24, wherein the interactive criteria assess the quality of a business in terms of any one or more of: customer satisfaction, professionalism, cost, and ease of use of a product or service, (col. 4, lines 3-29 and col. 5, lines 51-col. 6, lines 4).

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
